

The "Herald," or Journal, is being sold, and probably in the course of Ruland that, Thursday morning.

As the documents of this country have been, though hasty, we suggest to you, it is necessary to publish the property of existing newspaper. Sundays Herald, and we hope, to submit to the people of old France, that if they "get along through buying," or not, before he gets into the trouble of getting a colony newspaper.

Shortly after, Mr. Stevenson, Democratic Senator in Franklin County, never sold at all, and this year, under the management of Powers & Douglass, it is even worse than usual. R. R. Scott. The country ticket, mounted by the Whigs and Free Soilers, could hardly be bettered. There are no men in it who are not there to get rid of us. They were selected by the people, the best men to act as legislators and executive officers.

Last year the Whigs were particularly fortunate in the election of two of their candidates for the Senate. Mr. Carpenter is a safe popular, and accepted candidate. He honored the county—R. R. Scott. We were to many pledged to the antislavery law. The latter was, and deservedly so, elected to the Senate, and the former obtained a seat, also, and was a wretched disgrace to his constituency. We have learned to value more for the habits of their lives, than the pledges given on the eve of an election.

Small Business.—The Ruland Herald, with the other Whig papers of the State, are not very well pleased with the independence of position occupied by Powers, of the Temperance Standard, in his refusal to be a party to the game that the Whigs are now playing to regain their lost power in this State. "The Herald," last week, was guilty of the petty maneuvering of publishing an address made by him, a member of our State, at an Indulgent gathering, hoping thereby to excite prejudice against the man. Such things are mean and contemptible.—Bethel Falls Agent.

The Standard is just now the pet of the Patriot, the Advertiser, and the Sentinel, because it is doing its best to defeat the anti-slavery and anti-Nebraska ticket.

Democratic papers in this State have steadily opposed the Prohibition bill, and now they seem to have found friend in the Standard.

The Riot in St. Louis.—The St. Louis Advertiser gives the following account of the origin of the late riot in that city:

We have seen at least twenty eye-witnesses of the recent scenes, and from these different reports, it is difficult to state with accuracy precisely how the thing began, or with what party the blame of commencing it lies.

The fact is, that people had been prepared to expect a fight on election day; many were armed in anticipation; the fuel was dry, and the first accidental spark kindled into a fearful flame. Had the thing not suggested, it would probably never have occurred; but so many minds were dwelling upon the sinister predictions which had been most impudently uttered during the preceding weeks, that every man is train to look for the first spark of disturbance in a blaze of fire.

The spark came, and the blaze followed as a matter of course.

This is the plain truth about the matter, and it useless to seek further for the simple cause of all the late disastrous trouble.

As we said before, there was no especial hostility to any particular nation, class, clique or creed. The Irish were attacked because the fight happened to be commenced by an Irish worker, and the German, who was the first to fire, was a German, who had been beaten in the fight, and the mob who had been engaged against the German, and so on.

It appears that there was any pronounced anti-Irish or anti-Catholic feeling at the bottom of it, as we have maintained from the first, a great mistake.

Despatches from St. Louis state that the riot is now fully subdued and quiet again restored. The five hundred citizens who had enrolled themselves as special police and patrolled the city, were disbanded.

The Kansas Emigration Enterprise.—Mr. Branson, of Holyoke, has just returned from Kansas, where he has been engaged in locating the first party of emigrants. He is in fine health and spirits, and speaks of the fertility and salubrity of the country in enthusiastic terms. The emigrants were kindly received even by some of the most conservative of Missourians, who said that there will be a greater emigration from Missouri by men opposed to slavery than by slave-holders.

There probably will be a movement in this city before long in behalf of the Emigrant Aid Society, and it is to be hoped that it will excite a general interest.

A meeting of the pioneer party of emigrants to Kansas, was held at their camping ground, several miles beyond Waukegan River, on the 1st inst., at which, after a full discussion, it was decided to locate and purchase the equipment for a future town site, it was voted to make a stand at that place, and to proceed to make claims upon the land, with the understanding that the emigrant company at home would make the spot where selected the base of their future operations, and would forthwith, or at as early a day as possible, forward men and money to carry out their grand enterprise. The party was organized and it was voted to let on the spot.

The Missouri Argus has published the doings of a meeting of slaveholders, who offered a reward of two hundred dollars for Eli Thayer, president of the Worcester Kansas League, some of the pioneer party gave notice to the slaveholders that they had a man with them who stood ready to prosecute Mr. Thayer and take the consequences on the payment of the reward offered. The money they said, would be quite serviceable in the injury of their enterprises, and as to the conduct of the slaves, the slaveholders that they were there for their express purpose of testing the question, as to the right of American freedom to remain in the territory.—Springfield Republic.

The Mutual Herald, one of the oldest and most influential papers in the British provinces, seems the idea that Canada is to be "regularized" in other words, entered into a new colony, with a prince of the blood royal to fill the vice-regal throne. The Herald adds—If Canada ceases to be a colony, it will be a kingdom, whether it is a member of the United States confederation or not, must depend upon events over which she has no control.

An extract of Thompson's Bank Note Register published at noon to-day, states that the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Memphis, Tennesse, the Erie and Hudson Bay Bank, Michigan, and the Bank of Western, Mich., had failed to meet their engagements in this city. The same authority says that all Southern and Western banks will fall in a few days, ranging from 2 to 3 per cent, except Indiana, which will fair to depreciate even more. Illinois and Indiana money is secured by 6 per cent State Stock.

John Westworth, in a letter to his paper, from Washington, says "there is no earthly doubt but the Homestead bill will be passed because it would induce free laborers to go to Kansas and compete with slave labor."

At all the meetings, we have tried to give information to the public, and to the friends of that bill, that have come from sources sufficient to the people there, and, therefore, reasonably accurate. The truth, however, is beginning to leak out, and is putting a somewhat new face upon the matter, but one that certainly does not improve the character of the Radical party. Thus Capt. Rogers, of the larger Marine Corps, (an American vessel), emphatically denounces over his own name, the allegation that Radical had his head cut open by the south. There was never any "marks" upon his head.

The Capt. also denies the allegation that the Black Flag was ever raised over the fort, and to recruit in Ruland.

The treatment which Ruland received was just such as any other naval officer ought to have received. His attempt to shield himself under his official character from the results of his folly, was, evidently, to say the least. He was at the U. S. Minister to Germany, and was entitled to no respect whatever, what his own personal behavior would justify.—Matt.

Special Notices.

"The Standard," the evening newspaper there, many copies of which have been sent to us, are very bad. Hart, Hart, Hart and Offices of the Standard, and the Evening Journal, are even worse than usual. J. R. Scott.

The Advertiser, which Ruland received was just such as any other naval officer ought to have received.
